

ISSPRO DUAL GAUGE HOLDERS
(Partial Pillar – All Models)
ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

Your carton should contain the Gauge Holder and a package containing six fasteners (“Christmas tree pins”), along with these instructions. You will need a 3/16” drill to install your Gauge Holder.

1. Position your Gauge Holder on the A-pillar where you want to mount it and mark the A-pillar accordingly.
2. Remove the stock A-pillar.
3. Install the gauges into the Gauge Holder by pressing them into place.
4. Make an opening in the A-pillar for the gauge lines to fit through.
5. While holding the Gauge Holder over the A-pillar in its finished location, run the gauge lines through the opening in the A-pillar and check to make sure there is no interference with the gauges or the lines.
6. Drill 3/16” holes through the four corners of the Gauge Holder and through the A-pillar. Note: Some minor trimming of the Gauge Holder may be required in some applications for a perfect fit.
7. Insert the “Christmas tree pins” through the drilled holes to secure the Gauge Holder to the A-pillar. The other two pins are spares.
8. Run the gauge lines through the opening in the A-pillar, down the back and through the firewall to the engine.
9. First, re-install the A-pillar; then attach the gauge holder to the pillar, checking for sufficient wiring length (2” of slack recommended). Take care not to pinch the gauge lines in the process.
